Acknowledgments

We are indebted to many institutions and individuals who contributed time, expertise, inspiration and financial support to the making of this book.

In particular, we are grateful to John Piccininni at Bonneville Power Administration for handling the original BPA grant that funded the project's initial work, and to Dr. Tom Karier at the Northwest Power and Conservation Council for his support. We also recognize the peer review contributions from members of the Pacific Northwest Aquatic Monitoring Partnership (PNAMP) and the Collaborative and Systemwide Monitoring and Evaluation Project (CSMEP). PNAMP and CSMEP members represent a solid core of scientific and on-the-ground knowledge regarding salmonid ecology and monitoring methods. Their unyielding enthusiasm and support for this project has made the product richer, broader, and stronger.

We would like to praise Dana Foley, editorial manager, for pulling this project and its many pieces together—a herculean task. Andrew Fuller, senior designer at Ecotrust, has done a fine job of taking a drab document and giving it a much more inviting appearance. We appreciate the efforts of Chris Robbins, policy coordinator for State of the Salmon, for helping bring closure to the project.

Major Funding Sources

The Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation, Wild Salmon Center, Bonneville Power Administration, the Northwest Power and Conservation Council, and Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife.

Experts Workshop

A significant milestone reached during this book's development was an experts workshop that State of the Salmon and the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife jointly convened in Welches, Oregon, in March 2004. Workshop participants contributed their expertise and time to culling, reviewing, and shaping a standardized suite of monitoring protocols that evolved into the final set of protocols presented in this book. The group of international professionals in attendance (listed below) contributed scientific insight and moral support that moved this book forward.

Pacific Northwest Aquatic Monitoring Partnership

The authors consulted and collaborated with the Pacific Northwest Aquatic Monitoring Partnership (PNAMP) and relied on PNAMP's Fish Population Monitoring Work Group for technical input. Members of this group that contributed are listed below. PNAMP, formed by leaders of aquatic monitoring programs and encompassing a geographic area from northern California to Canada, provides a forum in which state, federal, and tribal aquatic habitat and salmonid monitoring programs can be better coordinated and integrated. The forum is intended to facilitate interagency agreements and craft recommendations on consistent monitoring approaches and data sharing within the community. Collaborative and Systemwide Monitoring and Evaluation Project

This book has also benefited from the involvement of scientists affiliated with the Collaborative and Systemwide Monitoring and Evaluation Project (CSMEP). CSMEP's mission is twofold: (1) to coordinate efforts to improve the quality, consistency, and focus of fish population and habitat data; and (2) to answer key monitoring and evaluation questions relevant to major decisions in the Columbia River basin. Initiated in 2003, CSMEP is administered by the Columbia Basin Fish and Wildlife Authority, with more than 30 participating scientists from federal, state, and tribal fish and wildlife agencies and consulting firms.

Other Contributors

We also want to acknowledge a legion of other individuals for contributing their time and talent to this book project.
