

Salmon of the Pacific. There are six species of Pacific salmon. They display different colors and characteristics during various life cycle stages. See if you can match the juveniles with their ocean going (sea-run) and river (spawning) counterparts.

Learn more at wildsalmoncenter.org

Searun salmon illustrations provided by Fisheries and Oceans Canada. Juvenile and spawning salmon illustrations provided by Kate Spencer, reproduced from the Atlas of Pacific Salmon. Answers: 1D pink, 2F coho, 3C masu, 4E Chinook, 5B sockeye, 6A chum.